The new Cullinan T-Top with sturdy roof pillars attached to the bulwarks makes a solid piece integrated with the hull giving an extra space on the deck and unique stability.

In the inboard model, the stern sundeck grows in length achieving a space of enormous dimensions. The stern dinette can also convert into an extension of the sundeck, as well as a wide and comfortable bathing platform with dimensions that allow the placement of a small tender. The platform can be optionally hydraulic with three movements.

The optional hull windows, in addition to the skylight of the cabin, provide a unique space with natural light and ventilation, that creates an iconic space that makes the interior of this boat the biggest in its category.
